

CLUB HAS PLAN FOR CURB LIGHTS

Would Place Poles Fifty-nine Feet Apart in Business District.

AWAIT COUNCIL ACTION
PROPERTY OWNERS TO PUT IN ADDITIONAL POLES.

The new street lamps proposed for Main and intersecting downtown streets will be placed on the curb line of the sidewalks and the light poles will be fifty-nine feet apart. If the resolution adopted yesterday by the Commercial club committee on public improvements and parks meets the approval of the city council, the scheme for the system of uniform distances between light poles was suggested by City Engineer L. C. Kelsey, Jr., M. L. and other property holders on the east side of Main street between South Temple and First South streets wanted to put in lights and poles costing $100 a pole and to install them at intervals of thirty-five feet. Officers of Z. C. M. L. and others present at yesterday's meeting, however, agreed to abide by the resolution of the Commercial club committee and install the lights fifty-nine feet apart. The Utah Light & Railway company proposes to put its sidewalk trolley poles in feet apart and to surround each pole with a cluster of five light globes. The property owners on the blocks affected will then put in a pole midway between trolley poles, with a similar cluster of lights.

Who Will Pay for Lights.

No agreement or arrangement was reached at yesterday's meeting of the Commercial club committee. Mr. Kelsey, members of the city council street lighting committee and the others present as to how the lights should be paid for. A practical suggestion along this line came from W. J. Halloran, president of the club. "I believe that the street railway company should put the lights on its trolley poles at its own expense. Then the intervening poles should be put in by either the property owners or the city. The city should be required to pay for the lights on the trolley poles and the cost of maintaining the lights on the intervening poles should be assessed on the property holders along the street," said Mr. Halloran.

Not All Harmony.

The plea was put up at the meeting that several property holders in each block would not come in on the lighting scheme and that this would delay the project. "I believe such a plea is unwarranted," said the city putting in the poles between the trolley poles and then making an arbitrary assessment on property owners along the street to maintain them," said Mr. Halloran.

F. S. Fernstrom of the city council addressed the meeting, saying he believed the city should and would maintain the lights on the trolley poles. Many different opinions were aired at the meeting, but those chiefly interested agreed in the resolution finally adopted.

Up to the Council.
The matter is now seemingly up to the city council. If that body adopts the resolution passed yesterday, calling for poles of uniform size and design to be placed midway between the trolley poles of the street railway company and providing for the maintenance of these lights by property owners or by other means that may be devised, not many weeks will pass before the poles and lights will go up. Z. C. M. L. is looking for the city to take the street railway company, as mentioned above, is waiting on the council's instructions, and property holders also are waiting for council action.

Those present at yesterday's committee meeting were: A. Fred Wey, J. J. Jones, E. C. Kelsey, W. J. Doolley, John Clark, R. W. Mendenhall, A. R. Carter, W. J. Halloran, W. Mont Ferry, Thomas Holaday, T. G. Weber, George D. Allen, E. D. Wells, A. F. Barnes, F. S. Fernstrom, E. G. O'Donnell, C. J. Crabtree, C. H. Griffin, A. Richter, T. R. Black, J. Murdoch.

CONVICT'S SON IS TRUANT.

Committed to Industrial School by Juvenile Court.
Flord Halloran, 15 years old, was committed to the state industrial school at Ogden by Juvenile Judge Brown yesterday. The boy's father is an inmate of the Utah state prison and it has been found impossible to keep the boy in school. He recently passed some weeks on a farm at Provo, but the visit failed to improve his morals and Judge Brown decided that the industrial school was the best place for him.

STUDENTS SEEK TO MAKE RULES

Would Require Instructors to Be Prompt in Appearing for Classes.

ULTIMATUM IS ISSUED
TROUBLE AT U. OF U. AND ALL HALLS.

Students of the University of Utah and of All Hallows college have undertaken to discipline their instructors for not being prompt in attending classes. In the case of All Hallows, the associated body of students have posted notices that no class will be held later than ten minutes after the regular time, and that anyone disobeying the rule is subject to the mercy of the association. Definite action has not yet been taken by the students of the university, although much discontent is expressed as a result of a new faculty rule bearing on the subject and the higher classes' law. The restoration of the old rule is expected.

Under the old rule at the university, a professor had fifteen minutes after the regular time to meet his classes and students were required to wait that time. The new rule gives the professor twenty-five minutes' leeway. This means that students, who never have noticed whether a professor will be able to meet his classes, must wait in the class room twenty-five minutes before they are authorized to leave. Many of the students have openly expressed their indignation and radical action would not be a surprise.

All Hallows Situation.

Radical action came at All Hallows. The beginning was in the "walkout" Tuesday, of which mention was made in The Herald yesterday. In that instance, some of the older students waited in their class room thirty-five minutes without a teacher. Monday this class of students, who never have noticed whether a professor will be able to meet his classes, must wait in the class room twenty-five minutes before they are authorized to leave. Many of the students have openly expressed their indignation and radical action would not be a surprise.

After waiting thirty-five minutes, the members of the class piled loose desks against the door, placed the teacher's chair on top of the pile and used the fire escape to mount to the dormitory. They then passed through the corridors, in the college yells, and wound up in the armory, where they secured a bugle and sounded several calls.

This proceeding was regarded by the faculty as an ordinary college prank and might soon have been forgotten had the students' ultimatum not been posted in the main class room. Following the posting of the notices, a rigid investigation was begun and has not yet been ended. All members of the class were "on the carpet" yesterday, but none divulged the origin of the notice, as far as could be ascertained last night. Suspicion probably is the punishment of the leaders in the movement if they were caught. The students only ask for the fifteen-minute rule, the word "ten" in the notice is the result of an error.

The discipline committee at the university expelled four and dismissed several first offenders. The person expelled last night was dropped at the middle of the year and was ordered to keep out of the campus. He was seen on the grounds by one of the teachers a few days ago and, although he went there only to get some of the chairs at the meeting, he was sustained and he will not be allowed to enter the university again. Most of the other offenders were charged with minor disturbances in class rooms.

GARDEN TRUCK SCARCE.

Local Market Seriously Affected by Washouts.
Owing to washouts on both lines connecting Salt Lake with California points, the local market here is feeling the effects of a continued scarcity of green produce and fruits.

Fortunately for the trade there is on hand quite a large supply of oranges, but this supply is hardly sufficient to carry the merchants over until railroad communication between here and California has been restored.

The only arrivals of consequence on the local market Wednesday were two cars of bananas from tropical points.

TO TALK OF GARBAGE.

Pressing Question Will Be Up at Meeting Tomorrow.
The sanitary committee of the council will meet with Herman Bamberger and Health Commissioner Stewart at 10 o'clock tomorrow to devise means of getting rid of the present accumulation of garbage.

The plan of providing an incinerating plant will be taken up in detail and should be decided upon steps will be taken for beginning work on it at once, as it is recognized as imperative that some solution of the difficulty be reached soon.

Mr. Cook says he has become somewhat interested in the subject of mediums, but hasn't joined the society as yet.

WOMEN'S FEDERATION TO PROVIDE WORKSHOP FOR MANUAL TRAINING AT CANYON CREST

"To him that hath shall be given" is the adage that has been applied to the Canyon Crest ranch proposition in the past few days, for since the association has been put on its feet, as it were, by the generous donations of Salt Lake people, many good things have been added.

The latest is the gift of the Utah State Federation of Women's Clubs, and it will mean one of the biggest steps in the growth of the association. At the meeting of the directors held yesterday morning it was decided to erect a "first aid" to the manual training school, the "aid" to be in the form of a carpenter and blacksmith shop to be put on the ground immediately.

This proposition is the outgrowth of the action of the federation last fall at its annual meeting, when the women voted to do something definite in a material way for the ranch, which is itself an offshoot of the federation work. Just what the something material should be has been hanging in the balance all this time, but the matter was decided by vote at yesterday's meeting, and as some money is already available, the necessary steps will be taken at once. The part which the various clubs of the state will take upon themselves to carry out is as follows: Miss Rosalie Pollock and Mrs. Kate

Y. Hilliard of Ogden having the plans for raising money in hand.
The idea is to erect the shops under one roof at a minimum cost of $800, and to provide a permanent fund to pay a teacher of manual training. These shops will be built by the boys themselves under the supervision of their present teacher, and the cost will go entirely into materials. The big matter of separating the girls in the state industrial school from the boys has been accomplished, however; the juvenile court law has been made better, the abuse of children has been made a criminal act, and the children are being better cared for and acted upon as resolutions have been passed.

AMUSEMENTS

Poulard"; Four Rianos, acrobatic comedians, "In Africa"; Cameron and Fitzgerald, their original act, "On and Off"; Aurie Dagwell, the girl who sings the old songs; Rider's monkeys, the acme of old intelligence; Appleby, symphony bandist, and the kindred.

SPRING ARRIVES TODAY

High Winds Clear Air and March's Finish Promises to Be Lamblike.
The sun will cross the equator and spring will be formally ushered in today. The high winds prevailing yesterday afternoon and early in the evening blew to the north the remaining portion of the storm that had been hovering over Salt Lake and vicinity for the past several days.

As a result of these high winds the first day of spring will probably be one of beauty and sunshine. Indications are good for pleasant weather. March, which came in like a lion, promises to go out like a lamb this year.

MORE TEACHERS NEEDED.—Report at the office of the city superintendent of schools is that the list of substitute teachers is almost depleted. CARRIERS WERE INTERESTED.—Salt Lake City's letter carriers were deeply interested in a measure that has been vetoed by the governor. This act permitted, according to the official census of its population during years when no federal or state census is taken. The letter carriers believed that a count of Salt Lake inhabitants would show such an increase over the last government census as would result in a reclassification of carriers, as well as an increase in their number. The bill was in conflict with an existing law.
